

Date: Sun, 15 Mar 2009 20:18:57 +0300
From: Yakov Azimov <yazimov@yandex.ru>
To: Maxim Polyakov <maxim.polyakov@tp2.ruhr-uni-bochum.de>
Subject: Re: Klaus

Dear Klaus,

Unfortunately, for some time now I has been practically divorced from e-mail by technical reasons (alas, the situation still continues). I am, nevertheless, lucky to learn about the special session devoted to you. Judging by the submitted talks, I hope it will be a good illustration for main directions of your research in hadron physics as well as for your support, both moral and organizational, of other researchers. What about me, it is a pleasure to recall our talks on different problems.

I wish you to retain, even after retiring, vivid interests in physics and in life at all. As shows my experience, this helps to maintain a good mood, and may even help to support health.

My best wishes to you and all your family.
Sincerely,
Yakov Azimov

P.S. Sorry for brevity, but I may technically need some (unknown) time for sending this letter before Monday.